

Paper: Patriot-News, The (Harrisburg, PA)

Deceased: Charles A. Dintaman

Date: September 9, 1994

Charles A. Dintaman, 74, of North Second Street, Harrisburg died yesterday in Community General Osteopathic Hospital.

He was retired from the state General Services Department; was an Army veteran of World War II; and a member and elder emeritus of Second United Church of Christ, Harrisburg, where he was a member of the Guild and the Leisure Club and historian of the Hoover/Wagner Sunday School Class.

Surviving are a sister, Mary C. Mack of Harrisburg; two brothers, Thomas A. of Mays Landing, N.J., and Glenn F. of Mechanicsburg; and nieces and nephews.

Services will be held at 11 a.m. Monday in his church. Burial will be in Churchville Cemetery, Oberlin.

Visitation will be from 7 to 8 p.m. Sunday in Neumyer Funeral Home, Harrisburg, and 10 to 11 a.m. Monday in the church.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Hoover/Wagner Sunday School Class of his church, 251 Verbeke St., Harrisburg 17105.

Section: OBITUARIES

Page: B2

Copyright, 1994, The Patriot-News Co. All Rights Reserved. Used with permission.